North Shore Jewish Center

North Shore Jewish Center is proud to present the film "Besa: The Promise," part of the 7th Annual Jewish Film Festival. The film is based on Norman Gershman's book Besa, How Muslims saved Jews during WWII. The National Endowment for the Humanities supported JM Productions in the making of the film.

Long-time fine art photographer Gershman spent five years collecting the stories of Albanian Muslims who harbored Jewish refugees during WWII as part of the Islamic tradition of Besa, or sanctuary, and his record provides a clear and powerful push back against a popular image more recently shaped by violent extremists. The film tells his story and that of Rexhep Hoxha, a Muslim-Albanian who must fulfill the promise made to a Jewish family his father rescued during the Holocaust and return to them a set of Hebrew books they left behind.

After the film a native Albanian familiar with the story will be there to talk about the film and answer questions. We have invited members of our local Muslim community to join our congregation in viewing this film.
